THE AUSTRALIAN CAPITAL TERRITORY

125. The Seat of Government of the Commonwealth shall be determined by the Parliament, and shall be within territory which shall have been granted to or acquired by the Commonwealth, and shall be vested in and belong to the Commonwealth, and shall be in the State of New South Wales, and be distant not less than one hundred miles from Sydney.

Such territory shall contain an area of not less than one hundred square miles, and such portion thereof as shall consist of Crown lands shall be granted to the Commonwealth without any payment therefor.

The Parliament shall sit at Melbourne until it meet at the Seat of Government.

(Section 125 of the Commonwealth of Australia Constitution Act, 63 and 64 Victoria, Chapter 12.)

Transfer of the Australian Capital Territory to the Commonwealth.—On 18th October, 1909, the Commonwealth and the State of New South Wales entered into an agreement for the surrender to and acceptance by the Commonwealth of an area of 911 square miles as the Seat of Government of the Commonwealth. In December, 1909, Acts were passed by the Commonwealth and New South Wales Parliaments approving the agreement, and on 5th December, 1910, a proclamation was issued vesting the Territory in the Commonwealth on and from 1st January, 1911. By the Jervis Bay Territory Acceptance Act 1915, an area of 28 square miles at Jervis Bay, surrendered by New South Wales according to an agreement made in 1913, was accepted by the Commonwealth, and was transferred as from 4th September, 1915.

(a) The category "Not at Work" includes those who stated that they were usually engaged in work, but were not actively seeking a job at the time of the Census by reason of sickness, accident, etc., or because they were on strike, changing jobs or temporarily laid off, etc. It includes also persons able and willing to work but unable to secure employment, as well as casual and seasonal workers not actually in a job at the time of the Census. The numbers shown as "Not at Work", therefore, do not represent the number of unemployed available for work and unable to obtain it.

Employed Persons

The questions used in the Householder's Schedule for this Population Count to determine the number of persons in the work force were framed to conform as far as practicable with the recommendations of the Eighth International Conference of Labour Statisticians held in Geneva in 1954. They thus differ in form and in resultant data from the questions used and in data derived in the 1961 Australian Census of Population as shown in Tables 13 and 14. For the Population Count the basic question was—

“Did the person do any work at all (other than unpaid housework) during last week (that is, from Monday, 24th June, to Sunday, 30th June, 1963) for payment, profit or keep or as an unpaid helper in a family business or farm. Answer either yes or no.”

For persons for whom the answer was “yes” a further question asked—

“State the usual number of hours worked per week”.

Thus the statistics pertaining to the work force presented in Tables 15 and 16 embrace all persons who did any work at all (other than unpaid housework) during the week 24th to 30th June, 1963, for payment, profit or keep or as an unpaid helper in a family business or farm whether full-time, part-time, for less than usual hours, casually, etc.

Unemployed Persons

Unemployed persons are all those who, during the week 24th to 30th June, 1963, did no work at all and—

- (a) did not have a job or business but looked for work; or
- (b) were temporarily laid off without pay for the whole week.

(a) In respect of which a separate Householder's Schedule was furnished. (b) Prior to 1961 single self-contained dwellings attached to or situated above offices, shops, etc., were classified as private houses irrespective of the description stated in the Householder's Schedule. In 1961 such dwellings, if described as self-contained flats, were classified as flats. (c) Includes "caretakers' quarters" which in 1961 were classified as private dwellings.

NOTE

Occupied Dwelling.—An occupied dwelling is any habitation occupied by a household group living together as a domestic unit, whether comprising the whole or only part of a building. The term has therefore a very wide reference and includes, in addition to houses and flats, a great variety of "dwellings" ranging from a single-roomed shack to a multi-roomed hotel or institution. Occupied dwellings are classified into "private" and "other than private" dwellings.

Private Dwelling.—Private dwellings are further classified into the following four categories:—

Private House.—Private Houses include houses, sheds, huts, garages, etc., used for dwelling purposes, and shared private houses for which only one Householder's Schedule was received.

Share of Private House.—A Share of a Private House is a portion of a shared private house which is occupied separately and for which portion a separate Householder's Schedule was received.

Flat.—A Flat is part of a house or other building which can be completely closed off and which has its own cooking and bathing facilities.

Other Private Dwelling.—These include private dwellings such as rooms, apartments, etc., which are parts of buildings but are not self-contained units.

Other than Private Dwelling.—These include Hotels; Motels; Boarding Houses, Lodging Houses and Hostels; Educational, Religious and Charitable Institutions; Hospitals; Defence and Penal Establishments; Police and Fire Stations; Clubs; Staff Barracks and Quarters, etc.

(b) This information was furnished by occupants of dwellings at 30th June, 1961. For a number of reasons the figures shown on this line do not agree with the number of dwellings by class recorded at the Census of 30th June, 1954, e.g. demolitions, conversions from one class of dwelling to another and errors of memory regarding date of building. Also the figures are not precisely comparable with 1954 data because of changes in classification of dwellings adopted at the 1961 Census, as indicated in Table 20.

(c) After 30th June, 1954, but year not stated.

(a) For the purposes of this Summary, an "owner-built" house is one actually erected or being erected by the owner or under the owner's direction without the services of a contractor who is responsible for the whole job. (b) Includes houses and flats erected by or for government authorities for their own use, for rental, or for sale after completion. Houses erected for particular persons under government-sponsored home building schemes or with government financial assistance are classified as "Private".

(a) Figures relate to persons actually working on the job of contractors who undertake the erection of new buildings and government instrumentalities which erect new buildings on their own account. They include persons actually engaged on alterations, additions, repairs and maintenance when these jobs are undertaken by such contractors and instrumentalities. The figures include working principals and their employees, men working as or for sub-contractors, and men temporarily laid off on account of weather. They exclude persons working on owner-built houses and, before 1962, also persons working on private buildings (other than houses) which are erected without the services of a contractor responsible for the whole job. (b) Not available.

TABLE 85.—AUSTRALIAN NATIONAL UNIVERSITY, CANBERRA, 1959 TO 1963

NOTE.—Up to 30th September, 1960, there were two separate institutions, namely the Australian National University and the Canberra University College. Students at the latter sat for examinations set, and obtained degrees conferred, by the Melbourne University. From 30th September, 1960, the Canberra University College ceased to exist as a separate organization. The Australian National University now consists of two parts, the Institute of Advanced Studies and the School of General Studies. The figures shown below include details relating to the Canberra University College.
